EXAMINER'S COMMENTS

Drawings

1. The drawings corrections filed 2/27/2009 are accepted by the Examiner.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments filed 2/27/2009 have been fully considered and are persuasive.

Reasons for Allowance

3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the prior art could not alone or in combination anticipate or make obvious a capsule filling machine comprising a first rotary carousel supporting slide units for picking up and handling capsules, a second rotary carousel supporting hollow nozzles for picking up and holding granular material, the nozzles movable between a position for picking up the granular material by vacuum, and a position for depositing the granular material into the respective capsule.

The most pertinent prior art, JOHNSTON ET AL, discloses a capsule filling machine with a plurality of reciprocating dosers mounted on a rotating carousel, the doser means operative between a first position in which the doser picks up particulate matter and second position in which the doser transfers the particulate matter into capsules. However, JOHNSTON ET AL does not disclose the doser means on a first carousel and the capsules held and moved on a second carousel.

Examiner notes that the claimed “pneumatic vacuum means” is not being read as a means plus function recitation, but rather in light of the structure detailed in the Specification, particularly on page 5 of the Specification: “Each of the openings 25 on the edge is also controlled by pneumatic means 24 (Figure 2), specifically pneumatic means 24a for generating a vacuum and pneumatic means 24b for generating a pressurized air jet. The means 24a are designed so that, in the first operating position, they pick up by suction a given number of micro-tablets 12 held in corresponding openings 25 on the edge...”.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled “Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance.”
